Reviewed: The Commission reviewed the following information received by mail or email:

- Emails from citizen on proposed data center
- Opioid Settlement (Secondary Manufacturers)
- Missouri Department of Transportation (MoDOT) Road Closures
- 2023-26 Interest Statement
- Update on legal from T. Elliott (Senate Bill 3)
- Email from Jacob A. Wood, Chief of Staff to the President, Northwest Missouri State University re: Workforce Impact & Recognitions (Spring 2026)

Public Comment – Jeff From shared (via email) some information on what the requirements are for a moratorium. The Commissioners had not all had a chance to review, but planned to share with the county attorney. From stated that if a moratorium were possible, that's when the real work will begin. Tim Schafer questioned if the Commissioners were serious about the moratorium and what the current status is. Burns shared that we are waiting to hear back from the attorney who is looking into the legal issues and feasibility of the process. Schafer shared concerns with low-level sounds regarding livestock and environment (ie/ honey bees impacted). Also has ground water concerns for his livestock. Susie Strauch had questions on a couple of roadways that are under construction or future construction. Strauch brought up that several groups (South Nodaway senior class, Barnard Community Betterment) had received money donations from Scale Microgrids. Shared concerns with where workers on the proposed project would live while the project is being constructed, that the North side of 340 Street is possibly going to be purchased, why we need so many data centers and taking our crop ground, regulations on steel products from China. The Commission stated that state/federal projects have to follow certain stipulations on where steel is purchased from, but on a private project, they may not. Regulations on projects will be discussed when the opportunity arises. Tax abatements were brought up again. The Commission reviewed that Abatements or a Community Impact Agreement would be discussed if the company wanted them. This would be a way to be able to distribute the funds throughout the county. The Commission discussed appraised value of property versus assessed values of property and how these are taxed. Strauch also discussed health concerns she and her neighbors have. Donna Tompkins asked about permitting for soil samples and water samples. She has not been able to find where they have had to get any. Commissioners reminded the group that since Nodaway County does not have Planning and Zoning, no permitting would be needed. If the landowner is okay with them drilling for sampling, then it can be done. Department of Natural Resources (DNR) may require permitting. Tompkins asked about water reserves in Andrew County that was in the May 19, 2026 minutes and if they are willing to sell that water. The Commission stated that it has been an option for a long time. Questions on water have been directed to Public Water Supply District #1. Tomkins asked about the Environmental Review process, Missouri Department of Conservation, National Environment Policy Act as projects go through permitting and do a heritage survey to recognize and take care of the environment. Eric Zimmerman shared concerns regarding resources being used up, future jobs being promised that don't seem to be there, impact on communities and data centers becoming obsolete. Projects would have to be updated, which means personal property is taxed on the new equipment. Zimmerman questioned if the county would really get sued if they issued a moratorium if the company knew the community was against it? The Commission stated that a moratorium is tied to an ordinance and needs to be done correctly. A moratorium cannot be issued just to delay a project, but has to be set to gain specific information and not set the county up for a lawsuit. Mike Hardy shared a statistic that 70% of America right now is saying "no" as the projects are not as good as they are selling. Tompkins questioned what would happen if there is a fire? This is on the list of questions the Commissioners have been working on. Rhonda Beattie asked what would happen in the event the usefulness of this expires. The Commission stated they would put decommissioning would be something they would look to put in the contract. Tompkins asked if a contract would still be followed if it is sold? The Commission discussed the contracts in place with the wind projects and how the contracts followed when they sold. The public meeting to be held on June 3, 2026 will hopefully give all community members more information. Burns stated that he had read that 70% of these projects do not come to fruition. He talked about needing public assistance IF Planning and Zoning could be put in place in Nodaway County. This would not stop this proposed project but could keep another from coming in. Also present during portions of the discussion: Danny McEnany, Carolyn Hardy and Sally Duff, Collector/Treasurer.

County Fair Grounds – Tom Shelton, President of NCED, Josh McKim, Executive Director, and Kim Mildward, Project Manager, met with Nodaway County Commissioners Bill Walker, Scott Walk and Sheriff Hann to discuss the development of a Nodaway County Fairgrounds.

On Monday, July 13, Governor Mike Kehoe signed House Bill 2108/Senate Bill 937, authorizing Northwest Missouri State University to sell approximately 59 acres of property, including the rodeo arena, after August 28, 2026. Passage of the legislation represents a significant milestone toward establishing a permanent fairgrounds and agricultural event venue for Nodaway County.

The concept of a county fairgrounds has been discussed for many years by NCED, the Nodaway County Commission, and community stakeholders. Most recently, an advisory group was formed to evaluate the feasibility of the project and develop a path forward, with NCED leading the coordination efforts. With the legislation now in place, the County, NCED, or another qualified nonprofit organization may pursue the acquisition of the property.

Shelton and Mildward have been meeting with representatives of Northwest Missouri State University to negotiate the terms of an initial purchase option. Later this month, representatives from the University, the Commissioners, Shelton, and Mildward are expected to meet to finalize the proposed option agreement and discuss the terms of sale.

Following the discussion, the group agreed that the preferred ownership structure would be for Nodaway County to purchase and own the property while entering a long-term lease with a nonprofit organization responsible for fundraising, facility development, programming, and day-to-day management of the fairgrounds on the County's behalf.

The Commissioners indicated they are comfortable with the County purchasing the property and financing the acquisition over a three- to five-year period. The group also discussed the need for a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) between the County and the nonprofit organization to clearly define responsibilities during the pre-development phase. The MOU would address maintenance and upkeep of the property until construction begins and the facilities become operational. In addition, a long-term lease agreement would be developed outlining the nonprofit's responsibilities for managing, maintaining, and operating the fairgrounds on behalf of the County once the project is complete.

To support this effort, NCED has been working with a group of interested community members to establish the Nodaway County Ag Expo and Fairgrounds Association, a new nonprofit organization that will lead fundraising and oversee the long-term development of the project. Draft Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws have been completed, and an initial five-member Board of Directors is being assembled. Once the board is finalized, the incorporation documents will be executed and filed. The draft Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws have been reviewed by Bob Sundell and Dannen Merrill, NCED's attorney and accountant, respectively. During the startup phase, the nonprofit will operate under NCED's organizational umbrella until it receives its federal 501(c)(3) tax-exempt designation, at which time it will become an independent organization.

Lincoln Township – Spoke with a resident of Lincoln Township regarding cleaning up brush on Road #329 so the county crew can work on a tube.

Adjournment – Walk made a motion to adjourn until 7/21/2026. Walker seconded the motion. The motion passed by vote: Walker (Yes); Burns (Yes); Walk (Yes.)

He emphasized the importance of documentation of information being presented and the due diligence piece is critical. Tim Schafer asked visiting Commissioners for commentary on how this will impact their citizens/communities and how they can protect them. Several Commissioners responded about the spending power of school districts and emergency services that have data centers.
